[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-MORAN.]
Tusculum, Ga., Oct. 20.—The President's train arrived here this morning at 7 o'clock over the Southern railway, where President Roosevelt came to visit the old home of his mother. Senator Clay with Mayor Sherman and others, welcomed Mr. Roosevelt to Tusculum, the childhood and girlhood home of his mother. The President was shown through the rooms and took a keen interest in every point about the place, after which breakfast was served. The party spent only an hour and a half at Tusculum, leaving at 3:30 for Atlanta.

COLD WAVE COMING THIS WAY FROM WEST
Six Below Zero Weather at Havre, Montana, May Be Experienced Here Shortly.

Snow flurries with gradually falling temperature were promised by the weather observer at Milwaukee this morning. The elements are getting ready for tomorrow's football game at Madison. Already severe snowstorms are reported from some parts of northern Wisconsin, upper Michigan, and Minnesota. Yesterday's rainstorm came from Utah, finding a way over the mountains in the southwest and coming up from Texas at an accelerated speed. At Havre, Mont., 6 below zero was reported yesterday morning. This cold wave is moving toward Jamesville and the east. Measurements taken in Milwaukee show that a total of 1.61 inches of rain fell in the twenty-four hours ending at 7 o'clock last. The severest fall was recorded in the fifteen minutes before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the total precipitation was .35 inches, more than one-third of the total during the entire day from 7 o'clock in the morning. Unsettled weather will prevail for the next few days.

WOMAN IS BECOMING MORE INTEMPERATE

Fact Brought In Report of State W. C. T. U. Convention to Local Union.

The W. C. T. U. met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Poorman. A very pleasant as well as beneficial afternoon was spent by all. The president, Mrs. Poorman, presented her report of the thirty-second state convention held at La Crosse. The report shows that very good work has been done in the past year for the temperance cause. There were nineteen new unions organized and many new members added. There was one thought brought out quite prominently which is at once encouraging and deplorable. By statistics it is shown that the liquor habit among men is decreasing, while among women it is increasing. The W. C. T. U. favors county option; a continuation of the present anti-liquor law; the expulsion of Senator Reed Smoot from the senate; asks that women be given the right to vote on all questions at the ballot-box; commends Pres. Roosevelt for his action in bringing about the Russian-Japanese peace conference; and deals with many other important questions.

MINTOS GO; CURZON IS STILL VICEROY

New Rulers of India Left London Today for Far East, But Present Governor Not Yet Gone.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, Oct. 20.—The Earl of Minto, who succeeds Lord Curzon as Viceroy of India, and his wife and family started today for India. They will arrive in Bombay in time to participate in the gaieties concomitant with the visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales, although the King has decreed that Lord Curzon shall not relinquish his office until the royal visit is concluded, in order that the present Viceroy may officially receive their Royal Highnesses.

STATE NOTES

The son, aged 2 years, of Julius Kleckhofer of Oshkosh, fell into a barrel of garbage and was drowned. Supl. of Schools William Wilson and Principal Elizabeth Waters of the Fond du Lac high school have placed a ban on high school parties because the parties take too much of the pupils' time, and are too expensive.

Prof. Richard T. Ely of the University of Wisconsin will speak on "Social Progress" at the inauguration of E. G. Lancaster as president of Olivet college, Olivet, Mich., next week. President Eaton of Beloit will give the charge.

Oshkosh boasts of having in its population the only Chinese woman resident in Wisconsin. The wife of Charlie Toy arrived here this morning with a small daughter and son. Toy is reputed to be wealthy and is thoroughly Americanized.

Peter Williams, a farmer living six miles east of Sparta, accidentally shot himself in the right side yesterday. Mr. Williams was chasing a coon, and upon going through a barbed-wire fence drew the gun through muzzle toward him and the hammers were caught. Indications point to the establishment of several large stock farms in the vicinity of Corliss by wealthy Chicago gentlemen. S. K. Jewett of the Chicago Stock exchange has purchased 120 acres of the Steffen farm. Several other Chicago men have secured options on land.

Edward H. Smith, a well-known Kenosha carpenter, and his family narrowly escaped being roasted in their beds, but managed to escape from the burning house in their night clothes after Mr. Smith made a daring rush into a burning room and carried out the two children.

In order to dispel the idea that they were married for money, Henry Heiman and Katherine Jackels, an aged couple married at Appleton, filed papers with the register of deeds making disposition of all their property subject only to life estates in that they might have a proper home until they die.

Doctor's Body Found Dismembered.

New York, Oct. 20.—A body believed to be that of Dr. G. H. Grant of Buffalo was found cut to pieces in the New York Central Railroad tunnel. He had evidently fallen from a train.

Hang Negro in Kentucky.

Winchester, Ky., Oct. 20.—Sam Hsieh, a negro, was hanged here for assaulting a white woman last August.

GOVERNMENT OWNS ALL FRIAR LANDS

Final Payment Made Today for Transfer—Long Dispute is Consequently Ended.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, Oct. 20.—The final transaction for the transfer to the United States government of the Dominican friar lands in the Philippines which have been under dispute so long, was made today when the Government paid through the International Banking Corporation of New York the sum of $3,521,657 to the Philippines Sugar Estates Development company in final settlement of the lands. The price is $150,000 less than was asked before Secretary Taft made his recent visit to the Philippines, and the payment includes the friar lands purchase which involved a total of 410,000 acres and an outlay of $7,239,000. Over the Dominican lands which include about 150,000 acres, a dispute arose as to the title to part of the tract, and the government served notice on the development company, which claimed ownership, that no money would be paid over until an absolutely clear title was furnished. The money was raised by the sale of the Philippine bonds and has been on deposit with the International Banking Corporation and the Guarantee Trust company in New York for about two years, drawing interest.

Mr. Wheeler is a veteran of the civil war and at one time was editor and publisher of a newspaper in the west, having spent a portion of his life in newspaper work.

UNIVERSALISTS GATHER IN GENERAL CONVENTION

Capital City of United States Is Meeting Place—Much of Importance to Legislature.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 20.—The Universalists of the country met here today in general convention. The meeting is a biennial one and is of utmost importance to the religious powers and authority over the State associations and churches. The keynote of the meeting will be evangelistic, although missions, another form of evangelism will have an important place on the program. The president of the convention, who serves as a mediator to the close of the week's meeting, is Mr. Frank P. Bonnett of Massachusetts. At the last convention held in Washington two years ago, there were reported Universalist churches to the number of 932 in forty-three States and provinces, with an aggregate membership of 54,102. The body is strongest in Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, Illinois, Maine, Indiana, Vermont and Pennsylvania.

WHISKY MEN COME BEFORE COMMISSION

Complain of Rate Discriminations on Part of Santa Fe and Other Big Railroads.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-MORAN.]
Washington, Oct. 20.—The Interstate Commerce Commission, which began its hearing day before yesterday, took up the case today of the National Whiskey Liquor Dealers' Association against the Santa Fe and thirty other railroads, including practically all the principal lines in the United States. The suit alleges that the rate on whiskey, as advanced by the railroads, is an unjust and discriminatory rate against the producers of high-proof spirits, that the advance was without commercial reason or necessity, and that it causes an unreasonable difference between the charges for transporting whiskey and transporting alcohol.

AWFUL STORM SWEPT OVER LAKE REGIONS

Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars Worth of Damage Was Done Shipping.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-MORAN.]
Chicago, Ill., Oct. 20.—Lake Michigan was swept last night by one of the worst storms in years. The shipping was much damaged and fears are expressed for the safety of a number of crafts which were out on the lake. The schooner Lydia Raessler was torn from her moorings at Sheboygan, Wis., and blown against the bridge and the ship's quarter was smashed. The storm along the lake has done hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of damage. Two hundred thousand dollars is the estimated damage at Holland, Mich. The north pier there is gone and the south pier partially destroyed, the harbor completely wrecked and the surface of the bay a mass of wreckage. The schooner Katy Lyons, making for Holland, was unable to make the harbor and dashed against the pier and has gone entirely to pieces. The crew was saved. Enormous damage was done the boat-houses, cottages, hotels and summer resorts.

At Buffalo

Buffalo, Oct. 20.—Two barges, the Unadilla and Sweetheart, broke their towlines and are drifting off this harbor. The great storm was seen from the shore. One of the boats sunk just before noon with a crew of five or six men. Tugs are vainly trying to reach the other.

At St. Joe

St. Joseph, Mich., Oct. 20.—A fierce gale and high seas destroyed thousands of dollars' worth of dock property on the east shore of the lake at various ports and this city last night. The seas are still running and fighting down the current of the river and fast washing under the foundations of the Pere Marquette bridge, which is in great danger.

Near Lorain

Lorain, Ohio, Oct. 20.—The steamer Sheldon, with twenty men aboard, was wrecked five miles off this port. The steamer Wisconsin is on the rocks just outside. The Sheldon and Wisconsin crews are believed to be safe, except that two are probably drowned from the Sheldon.

WHOLE FAMILY TRAVELED FREE

Expenses Of Trips To The South And West Were Paid For By The Mutual.

INCLUDES HIS WIFE AND PARENTS

Young Man Testifies That He Drew About Four Thousand Dollars For Visits To Various Agencies.

New York, Oct. 20.—Robert H. McCurdy, general manager of the Mutual Life Insurance company, and son of President Richard A. McCurdy, received from the Mutual Life in the year 1904, in addition to $122,000 which he got as commissions and salary, about $4,000 for traveling expenses.

This was brought out in the hearing before the Armstrong legislative insurance committee. The younger McCurdy testified that the $4,000 had been expended by him in visiting different agency headquarters in various parts of the United States. On one of these trips through the south and into southern California the general manager was accompanied by his father and mother and also by his wife. On the other trips the younger McCurdy was accompanied by his wife.

Suggestions made by those in charge of the inquiry indicated the committee regarded the expenses as high, but Mr. McCurdy denied positively that any expenses other than those incurred by himself on the trips were charged to the company. The trip to southern California was made in a special car.

Dines Foreign Agent.
It also was brought out at the hearing that the Mutual paid young McCurdy money to dine the foreign agents of the company when he visited Paris on his vacation last summer.

With the exception of this testimony given by the Mutual's general manager the hearing largely was devoted again to the Mutual's venerable president. The elder McCurdy showed more plainly than he has at any other time the effects of the severe strain which he has been under. His voice went back on him almost completely and his answers to most questions were given practically in whispers.

President McCurdy was examined chiefly as to his personal relations with the Mutual's subsidiary companies, in regard to the profits made by him through the syndicate operations in which the Mutual at the same time was concerned. There are fifteen of such syndicates. President McCurdy's profits in them aggregate

DEVILIN CREDITORS PAY STANDARD OIL

Contribute 90 Cents in Nickels, and Pennies When Hat is Passed at Suggestion of Humorist.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 20.—Creditors of C. J. Devlin, the millionaire coal operator who collapsed financially early in July, furnished John D. Rockefeller a handsome testimonial of the estimation and regard in which his Standard Oil octopus is held in Kansas during the course of a meeting here.

The courtroom was crowded with creditors and the little fellows with claims of only a hundred dollars or so were being dazzled by the indifference of lawyers who talked of claims as large as $250,000. Creditors with small claims were scared into silence. It was a big game that was being played until the Standard Oil butted in.

In some manner C. J. Devlin became indebted to the Standard Oil in the sum of 90 cents. A representative of the Standard Oil presented the claim to the referee in open court between arguments over a claim of $500,000. A creditor humorously inclined suggested that the hat be passed and the claim paid by popular subscription. The suggestion was followed, and 90 cents in pennies and nickels was raised with which to discharge Devlin's obligations to the oil trust.

E. F. Ware, formerly commissioner of pensions, who was in the courtroom at the time, was appointed to forward the amount to 26 Broadway and write a letter explaining the prompt payment of the claim.

HABEAS CORPUS FOR DOUGHERTY

Attorneys of Peoria Banker Are Said to Be Working to Secure Freedom for Client.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 20.—A plea for a reduction of the bonds of N. C. Dougherty is said to be the latest move on the part of his attorneys. They are working on papers by which they hope to gain temporary liberty for the indicted school superintendent and bank president. Mr. Dougherty has been in the county jail ten days, unable to give the $100,000 bail asked. This bail was placed by Judge Worthington on 140 indictments returned for forgery, embezzlement and larceny as bail. Both branches of the circuit court adjourned Thursday, so the move for lower bail will have to be through habeas corpus proceedings, which, it is expected, will be started by Attorney Joe Weil within a few days.

The trial of Dougherty undoubtedly will not take place in Peoria county. It is expected that the attorneys will move for a change of venue to some outside court when the case is called at the November term of court. The four attorneys employed by Dougherty say public sentiment has turned against the man and that it will be impossible to get a fair trial in this city.

The special auditing committee of the school board considered eight applications for auditing the books of the board and figuring the exact amount, as nearly as possible, of Dougherty's defalcations. They also were instructed to prepare a system which will in the future prohibit a repetition of such losses.

Dubuque Judge Imposes Shortest Term Sentence in History of Iowa. Dubuque, Iowa, Oct. 20.—Judge G. W. Burnham has imposed the shortest term in the Iowa state penitentiary ever given. Edward Frondel and John Lang, found guilty of obstructing the right of way of the Rock Island railway at Vinton, have been sentenced to one day each in Anamosa prison. The sentence is the minimum fixed by law.

BADGER VICTORY IS EXPECTED NOW

GAME WITH CHICAGO TOMORROW CREATES INTEREST IN CITY.

MANY PLANNING TO GO UP

Team is Reported To Be in Good Condition—Chicago Team Is Also Strong.

Janesville people, particularly former students and graduates of the University, are much interested in the outcome of the football game at Madison tomorrow between the University of Wisconsin and Chicago teams. It is thought that if the day is clear several hundred cardinal rooters from Janesville will go to Madison to help cheer the "badgers" to victory. Coach King predicts a victory for his team and it is conceded by men who have seen the boys practice that Wisconsin has the greatest football aggregation it has had for years. The Chicago team and rooters will pass through the city tomorrow morning.

Bad Field
On the eve of the big football game at Camp Randall between the eleven of the Universities of Chicago and Wisconsin, Badger students and followers of the team are trying to calculate the effect which the sticky, muddy field will have upon the chances of either team and which will be the winner by this undesirable feature of the contest. The gridiron is in extremely bad shape. When one even steps upon it he sinks in nearly to the ankles in soft clay, over which there is a light deception in the form of a thin growth of oat sprouts. All through the season Graduate Manager Downer has been working hard to prepare a satisfactory field for this contest, and he has been unsuccessful, although his men have been engaged on the ground almost constantly. Early in the season the field was ploughed and coated with a layer of rich soil, then seeded to a mixture of oats and grass in order to quickly produce a substantial sod. Underneath a system of tile drains are laid, the field is perfectly level, except for slight sloping outside of the gridiron bounds, so that the water is carried off, or will be carried off after the field has once well settled and been covered with good sod. This fall the grass refused to grow, although coaxed daily with copious applications of water. The autumn was exceedingly dry and vegetation suffered. During the last week heavy, cold rains have fallen, leaving the football field in lamentable shape. All through the season the practice scrimmages, signal practice and even the first games were played on the extra gridiron at the western end of the grounds, the main field being saved for the big game. This week saw the first work on the regular field. The Badgers will doubtless have a splendid field after this year, but for the Chicago-Wisconsin game it is a veritable sea of mud and clay.

Much Speculation
The conclusion of the mass of speculation over the probable result of the muddy field seems to be in favor of Chicago. It is believed here that with the exception of Dickersall the Wisconsin backfield is faster than that of Chicago, and as Chicago will presumably have a slight advantage over Wisconsin in the average weight of the entire team, the result will be that even though the mud operates to impede and tire out the fast man-quarterback it will operate even more surely to impede and tire out Findlay, Vanderboom and Roseth. The Wisconsin coaches agree that they would much prefer a solid, fast field, for they are in straits for good reserves with which to replace regulars who may have to leave the game. This was in the mind of King and Holt when a month ago they appealed for more big men.

Good Average
The Badgers will go into the game averaging about 135 pounds to the man, providing Deering, 201 pounds, is used at right guard instead of Gelbach or Hunt. Hunt weighs 133 pounds and Gelbach 134. The playing of either of them instead of Deering would reduce the average weight of the team over one pound. The weights from which the 133-pound average is calculated were taken several days ago, before the final hard scrimmages of the last few days, and it is probable that now the average weight has gone down to near 130 pounds. The weights of the Wisconsin players who will doubtless represent the cardinal at the start of the game are given herewith, but in each case an allowance of from one to three pounds should be made on account of the fat-reducing scrimmages of the present week.

LADIES' AUXILIARY OF A. O. H. LODGE

Was Hostess at a Delightful Card Cerd Party Given in Central Hall Last Night.

One of the most successful and enjoyable social functions of the year was the card party given at Central Hall last evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. O. H. Nearly two hundred couples were in attendance. The ladies' first prize was won by Miss Kathryn Dawson; the ladies' second by Mrs. R. L. Finley; the ladies' consolation, by Miss Marie Murphy. William Spicer captured the gentlemen's first prize; John Sheridan, the gentlemen's second; and Thomas Heffernon, the consolation. The committee of arrangements consisted of the Mesdames James Connors, Nellie Hogan, John Sheridan, James Buchanan, McCaffery, and John Kennedy.

TIMBER FELL AND KILLED HIS SON

Knute Seaver Lost Hold of Heavy Post on Town of Clinton Farm, and Terrible Tragedy Resulted.

There was a terrible tragedy at the Knute Seaver farm in the town of Clinton yesterday. A heavy timber which Mr. Seaver was trying to place in an upright position in the basement of his barn slipped from his grasp and falling, crushed his little three-year-old son beneath its heavy weight. When the horrified father lifted the timber the prostrate form of his child he found that the skull was fractured and the body terribly mangled. The boy was dead before he reached the house with him. As he entered the door, his wife, responding to his cries, came to look in agony at the limp and lifeless burden he carried in his arms.

"Household"—Transmitting of Diseases.
(Written for the Semi-Weekly Gazette.)

Perhaps I may do good by writing a few simple rules and helps for avoiding contagious diseases. My father, being a physician, impressed this duty of learning a few simple methods. Much contagion is carried and transmitted because young children have not been carefully instructed as to the danger. Sore eyes, granulated lids and catarrhal colds have been given one to another by brothers and sisters using the same towel. The same is true in using handkerchiefs. Children borrow each other's at school to wipe fruit from their mouths and faces. They often contract sore throat thus. Warn your little girls and boys to beware of such habits. You must educate them along these lines. Let the children wash their hands every night, before retiring, in hot water and soap, and put a little borax in it, as it kills disease germs and germs may exist under the nails, and the borax will purify and prevent contagion. Keep a box of it on the children's wash-stands and teach them to use it. As diphtheria has been prevailing somewhat, mothers need to be very careful. Give each child their own towel and their own handkerchief to take to school, especially if they take lunch. Children are so innocent and will borrow from one another.

REV. T. B. ROTH, D. D., WHO DELIVERED ELEGANT ADDRESS AT ST. PETER'S CHURCH LAST NIGHT.

Religious and historical aspects of "Plymouth Rock and Other Rocks" were treated in a very instructive and entertaining manner by Rev. T. B. Roth, D. D., of Greenville, Pa., last evening in his lecture at the St. Peter's English Evangelical Lutheran church. The very favorable impression made by the speaker in his talk on "Words" at Racine Tuesday night, was more than duplicated here. The speaker held the closest attention of his audience for almost two hours. Dr. Roth was formerly president of Thiel College, of which Rev. Christy of this city is an alumnus, and is well known in the lecture field.

"CONSOLIDATION OF SCHOOLS" IS TOPIC

Moonlight Club Will Look at All Phases of the Question on Evening of November 16.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Afton, Oct. 20.—"Consolidation of Schools" will be the first topic discussed by the Moonlight Club at the initial meeting of the season to be held at Shopiere, Thursday evening, November 16. This much was decided at a special meeting of the executive committee of the club, held at the home of Dr. A. B. Manley last Monday evening. It is planned to have a special address on the subject by a recognized authority and a general discussion of the question. A more extended notice of the meeting will be given later.

"The Work of Woman."
Concerted action on the part of woman kind will accomplish wonders, as those who view the interior of the Baptist church will realize, for the splendid effects there produced have been made possible only by the earnest efforts of the Ladies' Aid Society, and the members of that organization have just reason to be proud of the work accomplished. The church interior has been thoroughly renovated, the wood-work grained, the walls repapered, the stairs newly carpeted, the work being done by Messrs. Truewell and Billings of Shopiere. Services were held last Sunday afternoon as usual and will continue regularly each Sunday from now on.

Officers Elected.
The Ladies' Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. J. W. Atkinson last Wednesday and will meet on Wednesday of next week with Mrs. C. J. Coldren. Sewing for the society will be the order of this meeting and each member is expected to carry something for lunch. At a recent meeting of the society the following officers were elected for one year: President, Mrs. F. H. Otis; Vice-president, Mrs. C. F. Waite; Secretary, Mrs. C. S. Otis; Treasurer, Mrs. Wm. Brinkman.

Afton Personal News.
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Janes have moved to the farm recently purchased from Joseph Williams.

Geo. W. Robb has purchased the Dietloff property here in the village, recently occupied by Herman Smith, and will move there this week. Mr. Smith has moved to the Edwin Coate place north of Afton.

Work on the roads in district No. 2 is being prosecuted this week under the supervision of Overseer, W. J. Miller.

Mr. M. J. Dawson of Janesville shipped stock from here Tuesday.

Labor Notes

Lawyers, barristers, or agents, are not allowed to plead in the Victorian (Australian) Courts of Industrial Appeal without the consent of both the contending parties in any industrial dispute.

The Sailors' Union of the Pacific, won the prize, a silver loving cup, as the best-appearing union in the Labor Day parade at San Francisco. The Garment Cutters, Laundry Workers and Machine Blacksmiths received honorable mention.

Since the Factories and Shops Act came into force in Victoria, Australia, in 1886, the factories have increased in number from 1933 to 4436 in 1905 and the number of persons employed therein from 33,596 to 61,977 during the same period.

Steps were taken by the Columbus, Ohio, Trades and Labor Assembly to attempt the impeachment of Superior Judge Howard Ferris of Cincinnati on account of his order restraining the Iron Molders' Union from soliciting persons to join the union. The assembly instructed its legislative committee to at once employ counsel to prepare the impeachment case.

A movement to do away with high-priced labor by women is said to have been undertaken by the Elgin National Watch company. During the last six months it has been noticed that when women leave or are discharged their places have been taken by men.

There is no particular change in our local market since the 17th. Potatoes are scarce and the few offerings are taken freely; however, the price may not be any higher, as local dealers claim they can be shipped in at present quotations. The wheat market continues to be lively, and immense quantities are being marketed, but foreign demand keeps prices firm. Oats are in demand at top prices, although reports indicate there are plenty of them in the hands of the growers. Foreign demand is liberal.

If you enjoy delicious, crispy brown pancakes, try Mrs. Austin's.

Religious and historical aspects of "Plymouth Rock and Other Rocks" were treated in a very instructive and entertaining manner by Rev. T. B. Roth, D. D., of Greenville, Pa., last evening in his lecture at the St. Peter's English Evangelical Lutheran church. The very favorable impression made by the speaker in his talk on "Words" at Racine Tuesday night, was more than duplicated here. The speaker held the closest attention of his audience for almost two hours. Dr. Roth was formerly president of Thiel College, of which Rev. Christy of this city is an alumnus, and is well known in the lecture field.

Going To Bed Hungry.

It is All Wrong and Man is the Only Creature That Does It.

The complete emptiness of the stomach during sleep adds greatly to the amount of emaciation, sleeplessness and general weakness so often met with. There is a perpetual change of tissues in the body, sleeping or waking, and the supply of nourishment ought to do somewhat continuous and food taken just before retiring, adds more tissue than is destroyed, and increased weight and vigor is the result. Dr. W. T. Cathell says: "All animals except man eat before sleep and there is no reason in Nature why man should form the exception to the rule."

If people who are thin, nervous and sleepless would take a light lunch of bread and milk or oatmeal and cream and at the same time take a safe, harmless stomach remedy like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in order to aid the stomach in digesting it, the result will be a surprising increase in weight, strength and general vigor. The only drawback has been that thin, nervous, dyspeptic people cannot digest and assimilate wholesome food at night or any other time. For such it is absolutely necessary to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they will digest the food, no matter how weak the stomach may be, nourishing the body and resting the stomach at the same time.

Dr. Stevenson says: "I depend almost entirely upon Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in treating indigestion, because it is not a quick nostrum, and I know just what they contain, a combination of vegetable essences, pure pepsin. They cure Dyspepsia and stomach troubles, because they can't help but cure." Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package. They are in lozenge form, pleasant to take, and contain nothing but pure pepsin, vegetable essences and bismuth, scientifically compounded. Your druggist will tell you they give universal satisfaction.

IT IS

AS EASILY REGULATED AS A LAMP—every door, draft and joint on the famous genuine ROUND OAK Heating Stove fits. Pains-taking workmanship, right principle of construction, with the best material money will buy, are the reasons why this famous stove holds the fire, saves the fuel and satisfies the purchaser.

You take no chances when you decide on a ROUND OAK, no matter what kind of fuel you wish to burn—hard coal (with or without magazine), soft coal, coke or wood.

With the hot blast (used only for soft coal), a steady, even fire is secured which consumes the soot and gases; the double fire pot with cone-center grate with rim discharge, prevents the formation of clinkers.

Think what a satisfaction that is—just shaking the grate cleans the entire bottom of the fire alike.

There is no other stove like it—others are made to look like it, but there the resemblance stops.

Look for the name on the leg, then you will know it is the original, genuine ROUND OAK.

= FORTY YEARS AGO =

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, October 20, 1865.—The Eclipse.—Something solid got between this city and the sun yesterday morning. Some of our citizens took a good look at it through smoked glass, and others couldn't see it. For all we know it might have been a fair candidate for Assembly, taking the course. If so, let somebody sound him at once upon the "issues involved in the present canvass."

The Continentals.—The Continentals gave an excellent concert last night in Lappin's hall—one of the best ever given in this city. The natural musical ability of each member of the company, is decidedly superior and with little more training they will be the best traveling troupe in the country. "Old Shady," an original negro melody, was well rendered, and well worth the price of admission. Should they ever return they will be most heartily welcomed.

What Shall Be Done With the Negroes.

If you have made soldiers of slaves, men of chattels, finish the job by making citizens of men. If they are worthy to become citizens give them the right of citizenship as fast as they are sufficiently posted to know the duties and obligations of citizens, and cut down the foreigners to the same restrictions. No man, either white or black, should be allowed the right of suffrage until he can write his own name and read the Constitution of the United States.

Some extremists propose universal suffrage among the negroes, as a matter of necessity, there is no necessity of their voting any faster than they become qualified for the same restrictions are imposed upon the whites of the South they will lose many votes as there are negroes not qualified at the first election.

We may as well ask what shall be done with the copperheads, for if the restrictions were equal among white and black, there would be a sudden decline in copperhead votes; the McClellan Democracy in the North would lose ten times as many votes as the whole number of negroes in the North.

A large class portion of this class of copperheads who are so strongly opposed to negro suffrage, are persons who can neither read nor write, are ignorant of their obligations as citizens, and should be disfranchised until qualified. No person who has tried hard for four years to destroy a government should now claim its protection, and deny its defenders the rights of citizenship.

GEORGIA MEETS ROOSEVELT NOW

most of the things of which they complain are the inevitable accompaniments of the growth and greatness of which we are proud.

Now, I do not wish to be misunderstood. I do not for one moment mean to say that there are not many and serious evils with which we have to grapple, or that there are not unhealthy signs in the body social and political; but I do mean to say that while we must not show a foolish optimism we must not less beware of a mere blind pessimism. There is every reason why we should be vigilant in searching out what is wrong and unflinchingly resolute in striving to remedy it. But at the same time we must not blind ourselves to what has been accomplished for good, and above all we must not lose our heads and become either hysterical or rancorous in grappling with what is bad.

Take such a question, for instance, as the question, or rather the group of questions connected with the growth of corporations in this country. This growth has meant, of course, the growth of individual fortunes. Undoubtedly the growth of wealth in this country has had some very unfortunate accompaniments, but it seems to me that much the worst damage that people of wealth can do to the rest of us is not any actual physical harm, but the awakening in our breasts of either the mean vice of worshipping mere wealth, and the man of mere wealth, for the wealth's sake, or the equally mean vice of viewing with rancorous envy and hatred the men of wealth merely because they are men of wealth. Envy is, of course, merely a kind of crooked admiration, and we often see the very man who in public is most in sympathy with his denunciation of wealth, in his private life most eager to obtain wealth, in no matter what fashion, and at no matter what moral cost.

Undoubtedly there is need of regulation by the Government, in the interest of the public, of these great corporations which in modern life have shown themselves to be the most efficient business implements, and which are, therefore, the implements commonly employed by the owners of large fortunes. The corporation is the creature of the state. It should always be held accountable to some sovereign, and this accountability should be real and not sham. Therefore, in my judgment, all corporations doing an interstate business and the largest corporations, should be held accountable to the Federal Government, because their accountability should be coextensive with their field of action. But most certainly we should not strive to prevent or limit corporate activity. We should strive to secure such effective supervision over it, such power of regulation over it, as to enable us to guarantee that its activity will be exercised only in ways beneficial to the public. The unwisdom of any well-meaning but misguided effort, to check corporate activity has been shown in striking fashion in recent years, and in Porto Rico. Our national legislators very properly determined that the islands should not be exploited by adventurers without regard to the interests of the people of the islands themselves. But unfortunately, in their zeal to prevent the islands from being improperly exploited they took measures of such severity as to seriously, and in some respects vitally, to hamper and retard the development of the islands. There is nothing that the islands need more than to have their natural resources developed, and these resources can be developed only by the abundant use of capital, which, of course, will not be put into them unless on terms sufficiently advantageous to offer prospects of good remuneration. We have made the terms not merely hard, but often prohibitory, with the result that American capital goes into foreign countries, like Mexico, and is there used with immense advantage to the country in its development, while it can not go into our own possessions and be used to develop the islands under our own flag. The chief sufferers by this state of things are the people of the islands themselves. It is impossible too strongly to insist upon what ought to be the patent fact that it is not only in the interest of the people of wealth themselves, but in our interest, in the interest of the public as a whole, that they should be treated fairly and justly; that if they show exceptional business ability they should be given exceptional reward for that ability. The issues of our industrial fabric are interwoven in such complex fashion that what strengthens or weakens part also strengthens or weakens the soil and climate of the south are such that she enjoys a practical monopoly in the production of raw cotton. No other clothing material can be accepted as a substitute for cotton. I welcome the action of the planters in forming a cotton association, and every assistance shall be given them that can be given them by the national government. Moreover, we must not forget that the work of the manufacturers in the south supplements the work of the planter. It is an advantage to manufacture the raw material here and sell to the world the finished goods. Under proper methods of distribution it may well be doubted whether there can be such a thing as over-production of cotton. Last year's crop was nearly fourteen million bales, and yet the price was sufficiently high to give a handsome profit to the planter. The consumption of cotton increases each year, and new uses are found for it.

This leads me to a matter of our foreign relations, which directly concerns the cotton planter. At present our market for cotton is largely in China. The boycott of our goods in China during the past year was especially injurious to the cotton manufacturers. This government is doing, and will continue to do, all it can to put a stop to the boycott. But there is one measure to be taken toward this end in which I shall need the assistance of the congress. We must insist firmly on our rights; and China must beware of persisting in a course of conduct to which we can not honorably submit. But we in our turn must recognize our duties exactly as we insist upon our rights. We can not go into the international court of equity unless we go in with clean hands. We can not expect China to do justice unless we do China justice. The chief cause in bringing about the boycott of our goods in China was undoubtedly our attitude toward the Chinese who come to this country. The attitude of ours does not justify the action of the Chinese boycott, and especially some of the forms which that action has taken. But the fact remains that of our duty to the people of China. It is our clear duty, in the interest of our own wage-workers, to forbid all Chinese of coolie class—that is, laborers, skilled or unskilled—from coming here. The greatest of all duties is national self-preservation, and the most important step in national self-preservation is to preserve in every way the well-being of the wage-workers, the exclusion of the Chinese coolies, and it is therefore our duty to exclude them, just as it could be the duty of China to exclude American laboring men if they became in any way a menace to China by entering into her country. The right is reciprocal, and in our last treaty with China it was explicitly recognized as inhering in both nations. But we should not operate the law with as little harshness as possible, but we should show every courtesy and consideration and every encouragement to all Chinese who are not of the laboring class to come to this country. Every man or traveler or student, business man or professional man, should be given the same right of entry to, and the same courteous treatment in, this country as are accorded to the student, or traveler, the business man or professional man of any other nation. Our laws and treaties should be so framed as to guarantee to all Chinamen, save of the excepted coolie class, the same right of entry to this country and the same treatment while here as is guaranteed to citizens of any other nation. By executive action I am as rapidly as possible putting a stop to the abuses which have grown up during many years in the administration of this law. I can do a good deal, and will do a good deal, even without the action of the congress; but I can not do all that should be done unless such action is taken, and that action I most earnestly hope will be taken. It is needed in our own interest of the Pacific slope and of the South Atlantic and Gulf states; for it is short-sighted indeed for us to permit foreign competitors to drive us from the great markets of China. Moreover, the action I ask is demanded by considerations that are higher than mere interest, for I ask it in the name of what is just and right. American law should take the lead in establishing international relations on the same basis of honest and upright dealing which we regard as essential as between man and man.

Letter to Mr. Charles D. Fiffeld, Janesville, Wis.
Dear Sir: Two years ago the estate of the late Congressman Scott, of Erie, Pa., patented 24 Rolling-Mill houses one coat Devoe at a saving of 11 per cent for paint (lead-and-oil was after the job.)
That's how the tale reads. We infer what really happened.
The buyer, as usual, went by the cost of paint; got bids. Lead-and-oil bid low and guessed the quantity low; the saving was only 11 per cent.
Nobody seems to have thought of this: the painting costs two or three times as much as the paint. How much did we save on the painting? Don't know.
The tale ends with this: We often refer inquiries to those houses, for wear of Devoe.
That's a good enough story; but nobody knows what it is. Our only difficulty is want of paint-intelligence. Yours truly

The Truth About Stoves

By the Largest Makers of Stoves and Ranges in the World

MANY people have been deceived in believing that stoves were cheap because of a low price, which experience proves them the most expensive.

A small price may be paid for a stove which looks attractive in the catalogue, which has been described as "perfect," but it is liable to prove a very expensive purchase for the chances to one, trouble will arise from this stove in a month's time—it may not heat or cook properly, or it may consume fuel like a locomotive. Then the material in the stove itself may wear so poorly that at the end of a year or so it will have to be replaced.

You never get something for nothing in this world, and when you pay a small price for a stove, that price must cover the cost of material and labor, and include a reasonable profit, consequently inferior cast-iron and steel, and the cheapest and most inexperienced labor, must go into the seemingly inexpensive stove, to let us tell them how they can save money by buying a "Garland."

We have opened an "Advice Department," in charge of an expert stove man, simply to tell the people about stoves. All this expert will honestly advise you just which stove or range will best suit your needs. We also want those who have more than that of the seemingly inexpensive stove, to let us tell them how they can save money by buying a "Garland," even if the first cost is a little more than that of the cheap, and unsatisfactory stove.

We want them to let us tell them about the advantages of "Garland" Stoves and Ranges, which always prove a good investment. We make a "Garland" to fit every stove need, and have books accurately describing the different kinds. We could not afford to open this "Advice Department" or send out the valuable literature we do, free of charge, if "Garland" Stoves and Ranges were not the distinctly superior to other makes. If the conditions of our operation did not make it possible for us to sell them at reasonable prices, and if our reputation and methods of doing business did not insure absolute satisfaction.

If you are considering the purchase of a stove or range, cut out this coupon, check (this way) the kind of stove you are interested in, mail it to us today, and you will promptly receive our Expert Advice, as just which stove is best suited to your needs, and why, and our literature, free of charge.

Receiving our Expert Advice and Literature will not put you under any obligation to buy. We simply desire the opportunity to give you the evidence of the tremendous superiority of "Garland" Stoves and Ranges, and leave the buying decision entirely with you.

In order that "Garland" Stoves and Ranges shall last, we make them of the very best materials and employ the most expert workmen in the world.

"Garland" Stoves and Ranges are durable and handsome in appearance. They are highly polished and coated with a material that will last a lifetime.

"Garland" Stoves and Ranges will not "burn out," but will heat and cook perfectly, and will save fuel, save repairs, save money.

We have local dealers who handle our stoves exclusively, in nearly every village, town and city in the United States. You can examine "Garland" before you buy, instead of after. You can satisfy yourself that "Garland" is as represented. There will be no freight to pay on "Garland," and the dealer will set them up without charge.

If no dealer in your town sells "Garland," or you decide to buy a stove not in your local dealer's stock, you can enjoy the above advantages. We will make a special arrangement so that the stove you want will be delivered to you and properly set up ready for use in your own home.

The Written Guarantee of The Michigan Stove Company accompanies every stove, and protects you by the absolute guarantee that every "Garland" is as represented—The World's Best.

If you think that the value of advertising is exaggerated, why should you not be rather glad to see your business competitor use twice as much space in this newspaper as you use? But would you be glad to see it?

If Tammany is at all afraid of Willie Hearst no one knows it.

The Bologna Board is still conducting a quiet, still hunt for sausage.

Norway is satisfied to have a King if she is allowed to pick her own.

Banker Dougherty keeps his nerve up and pleads that the school boards were not properly elected.

Japan has taught the world a lesson and the world will forget it just as promptly as it can.

Chicago has it's Mayor Dunne yet, but as yet, no it's as yet, has it municipal ownership of the street railway lines.

Modern warfare has sadly degenerated from the days of David and Goliath with a sling and stone. Now they actually fight miles apart.

Joliet is also having a grand jury investigation and a former Janesville resident is one of the men frequently mentioned as a possible steady boarder there.

Flying machines have not yet come to stay as have the automobiles. Possibly they may in time, for ever since the days of Darius Green, men have aspired to fly.

Because Folk put the lid on St. Louis and then nailed it down, the Philadelphia people invited him to pay their little village a visit to tell how he did it.

Spain evidently does not think much of that theory that the old age deprecates a man's worth. They can distinctly remember Admiral Dewey and his visit to Manila.

Mayor Rose is now on the stump in defense of Charles Pfister. Mr. Rose is telling the truth about the grand jury from his standpoint and the truth seems to hurt the great Free Press very much.

That football, with a capital "F," game on Saturday between Chicago University and the University of Wisconsin seems to be more important than the graduation exercises were last spring.

ROOSEVELT IN THE SOUTH.

President Roosevelt is now on a tour of the Southern States. When he has completed his present trip he will have visited every state and territory in continental United States. His daughter has taken in the western islands so this leaves but Alaska and Porto Rico to be yet visited to have completed a tour of the whole United States. Theodore Roosevelt is one of the great men of this nation. In his speeches he is delivering in the South he is strong and thoughtful. At Richmond and Raleigh and at other cities which are in hand (through the effective service of the Scripps-McRae) it is a frank, unrestrained talk, man to man, dealing with current questions. It is typical Roosevelt talk, the kind that American people understand and like. It is because the president takes the whole nation into his confidence and avoids indirections in his dealings with them that he has such a remarkable hold on them to a point where his following transcends party lines as it never has since Washington's first administration. President Roosevelt brings the subject of forestry to the front, and from now on the states and the nation will work to avoid the evils of deforestation which have been so graphically portrayed. The railway question is the one on which more than any other the chief executive has set his heart looking to action by the coming Congress. He wants reasonable but vigorous action; his utterances, however, indicate he differs from radicals who insist on turning the management of the companies over to state officers. He wants supervision, not control.

WOODMEN OF TODAY.

In the present day of steam and electricity, the ancient art of woodcraft is fast becoming a lost art. The pathfinders of the continent, the men who broke the trails through the great stretches of forest that hemmed in the little Atlantic colonies, were driven farther and farther west until they became the scouts of the plains. Even these are becoming scarcer and scarcer. Today woodcraft consists in the preservation of great tracts of forest reserves that the nation is endeavoring to preserve. The early pioneers of this continent lived largely out of doors. Life of the settlements was diverse and what is now town or city life was unknown. The New York Tribune is much disturbed over this decrease in out of door occupations. It says of the matter: "Notwithstanding the tremendous growth of the fashion of country living, it still remains the fact that for the young man of education who is about to choose his career in life there is little opportunity to shape it so that, at least while he is engaged in a gainful occupation, he may be any other than a dweller in towns. There is, to be sure, a recognition of the advantage which a certain degree of technical training gives to the young man who intends to be a farmer, but naturally the proportion of those who, having elected the independent life of the husbandman, feel that they can afford the time for the full collegiate course is small. The decline of cattle ranching on a moderate scale has deprived the college graduate with a passion for the out of doors, of a congenial occupation which formerly might, and often did, become a permanent vocation. The profession of the civil or mining engineer offers open air work to the beginner, but with success comes condemnation to an office, and so on with many other admirable callings. For a vast number of ambitious Americans the country life is only to be enjoyed in holiday and vacation time. The yoke of city life is still heavy upon the man who is inclined to feel, with Stevenson, that he 'would rather be a bargee than occupy any position under heaven that required attendance at an office.'"

One field of activity, however, is open to such a man, and is widening yearly. The management of the national forest reserves requires the services of many trained men, and the Forest Service will call for an increasing number of well prepared foresters to supply its needs. Already private forest owners are realizing that conservative lumbering pays better than the old wasteful methods, and are seeking for trained men to look after their timber. Opportunities for entering the government service are afforded to applicants above the age of twenty, college graduates having the preference, and under-graduates taking precedence over men of smaller educational preparation. Once accepted as a "forest student," a man must be ready to combine severe mental work with vigorous manual labor for a small salary and under strict supervision. That the ideals of the service are high may be seen from the Chief Forester's suggestion that the student who in his college course can include physics, meteorology and political economy, in addition to geology, physical geography, mineralogy, chemistry, botany and pure and applied mathematics, will be the better equipped to take up his technical forest studies, and his added recommendation that the forest student supplement his systematic studies in this country by six months to a year spent in investigating the forestry methods of European states.

Something of the devotion of the scholar, as well as the love of the wild, must go to the making of the successful forester. Like the college professor, he must renounce the hope of riches, for his compensation, if we are to judge by present standards, will not exceed $3,500 a year. But, given the proper qualifications, we may conceive a United States forester as a happier man than many a far more largely remunerated citizen."

MRS. JOHN COSTIGAN, A RESIDENT OF COUNTY FOR HALF A CENTURY, IS DEAD

Passed Away This Morning at Home on Milton Avenue—Was Born in Ireland.

After a serious illness of eight months, Mrs. John Costigan passed away this morning at eleven o'clock. She was eighty years of age and has been a resident of Rock County for the past fifty years. Her birthplace was Caven, Caven County, Ireland. There are left to mourn her death a husband and four sisters—Mrs. Michael Moore of Janesville, Mrs. Ellen Hamilton, Mrs. James Costigan and Mrs. Rose Bernard of the town of Harmony. Notice of the funeral will be given later.

Margaret Noonan

Margaret Noonan passed away last evening at the county hospital. The remains were brought to the undertaking rooms of Dan Ryan and Son and will be cared for and buried by relatives, who reside near Footville.

NINE HUNDRED PRIZE PACKETS

OF WHICH HORATIO NELSON TOOK FOUR WAGON-LOADS.

SOLD BY U. S. EXPRESS CO.

Robert Boswick Secured Some Fine Art; D. M. Barless Part of Threshing Machine; Dave Brown, Detective's Outfit and Priest's Robe.

All church "fish-pond" and "grab-bag" records were beaten at the big auction of the United States Express Co. which closed last evening with an excited throng willing to bid up anything and everything from packages of old newspapers to bottles of horse-liniment. The company divided its state of Wisconsin undelivered packages for two years in two sections; sold one at Green Bay and brought the other to Janesville. The officials frankly admitted this morning that they were brought to Janesville because the people here take long chances on bargains. "There are too many second-hand men in Milwaukee who league with one another to keep the bids down and get things for ten or fifteen cents," said one of them. For a while yesterday it looked as if the company had come to the wrong town but last night citizens redeemed themselves and fairly climbed over one another to get a chance to be humbugged.

Plain-View Things Cheap

Packages whose contents could be guessed did not appeal strongly to the bidders. A pair of crutches could not be sold at all, though they were doubtless worth $3 or $4, and it was necessary to throw in one small mysterious box. The offer at once went to forty cents. Dr. Judd got a bottle of hair-cream and some bills for a minstrel show. Many of these packages of printed matter were mistakes for bolts of cotton cloth and the bids in some cases ran up to $4.

Five Quarts of Whiskey

George McKee came into possession of a large flask of cough medicine. Milton Barless captured five quart-bottles of whiskey for ten cents. Otto Kronitz got a gallon for a trifling sum. Philip Reus accumulated eight bar-aprons. Martin Curtis bought a package for eighty cents which contained three boxes of ten-cent cigars, worth nine dollars at wholesale. A good furnace flue-cleaner went for a trifling sum.

Bibles and Pictures

Alderman Brockhaus secured a good oil-painting on wood and some medicine. D. M. Barless bid in a large box which contained a number of family treasures which included a Catholic bible, worth when new about $12, a large religious painting, a big framed portrait of a rather pleasant looking old lady, and numerous other articles. He paid $4.50 for the box and sold the Bible alone for $4 this morning. Mr. Barless also secured for thirty cents a threshing machine sieve worth $4. Charles Tallman became the proud possessor of three pairs of white kid-gloves and a glass gold-fish bowl.

Dave Brown a Detective

Dave Brown bought a prize package which contained a detective's star and a membership in the "International Agency." He also secured two boxes of gauze Red-Cross army bandages which are worth something, a pair of boots which had long ago ceased to keep out the damp, and a priest's robe. His brother, Dr. R. L. Brown, bought twenty-four spoons of fine red, white, and blue Swiss braid with 1,000 yards of each spot.

Up to this noon the only thing of much value which had been disclosed was a sealskin sacque which had been sent to a Milwaukee fur-house for repairs and was on its way back to the owner.

Teamsters' Union Buttons

One man secured a box containing several hundred teamsters' union buttons and he proceeded to scatter them to the four winds. Roosevelt buttons were greatly in evidence. A more fortunate purchaser secured a pair of made-to-order shoes worth $8. There had been a lawsuit over this footwear, the purchaser refusing to accept it because the shoes were too small and the maker collecting from him through the courts. Meanwhile the package remained in the hands of the Express Co., both sides refusing to pay charges. The buyer could not wear them, himself, but placed them in one of the shoe-stories.

Packages for Card Prizes

Fred Green and Joseph Ryan bought some 24 packages and did not open them. They are to be used as prizes at a card party tonight. How's that for a feat in straining curiosity? E. A. Kemmerer was the buyer of the firearm which excited much interest yesterday afternoon. It was a single barreled shotgun, worth when new $11 or $12, and still in good condition. E. B. Heimstreet very fittingly bought in a case of fancy medicine. Another purchaser secured a whole bale of slippery elm bark. The Express Co. must have realized between $400 and $500.

The affair was a very enjoyable one.

EDWARD MADDEN SURPRISED ON EIGHTEENTH BIRTHDAY

Twenty-five Friends Made Merry at His Home on Washington Avenue Last Evening.

Yesterday marked the eighteenth birthday of Edward Madden and to celebrate the event a score or more of his friends surprised him at his home on Washington avenue last evening. The hours were pleasantly spent at cards and in other various games and delicious refreshments were served. At the close of the festivities Frank M. Boylan, in behalf of the company, presented Mr. Madden with a handsome ring. The card prizes fell as follows: first ladies, Miss Mamie Conley; first gentlemen, Edward Joyce; ladies' consolation, Miss Alice Heagney; and gentlemen's consolation, John Premo.

THE BODY SHRINKS

even if the mind is convinced. This is an amusing incident of almost daily occurrence in a dental office. The daughter hesitates to sit down and have her teeth attended to. Her mother stands beside her and says: "Don't be a baby now. You know Aunt Nellie said Dr. Richards didn't hurt her a bit."

"If he didn't hurt her, he won't hurt you."

The young lady knows that she is in the care of a dentist who has the reputation of doing painless work and yet she shrinks.

It's a fact that no matter how many people tell you that they were not hurt a bit, yet it is hard to come to the actual point of going through it yourself.

Of course this is not always the case.

Just recently a young man insisted on Dr. Richards extracting an offending molar for him and then

TALE OF HORROR COMES BY LETTER

GROVER HORN WRITES OF HIS SHIPWRECK BY SEA.

THREE WEEKS IN OPEN BOAT

Finally Rescued by English Tramp Steamer—Faken to St. Johns, N. B., Hospital.

Twenty-three days in an open boat on the broad Atlantic, first mate lost overboard and gone, two of the survivors sick unto death and the final rescue by an English tramp steamer and his illness in a St. Johns, N. B., hospital for three weeks, is the story that Grover Horn writes home to his brother. With the characteristics of a sailor, Grover Horn does not make much of his harrowing experience. He says the sinking of the craft he was sailing in occurred near the equator, south, but he does not go into details of that awful twenty-three days in the little yawl-boat and the suffering he must have experienced. The fact that he was so exhausted that he was taken to a hospital of being landed in St. Johns shows that his experience must have been frightful. His letter to his brother, John R. Horn, is full of vacant spots that can be filled by the imagination of the reader, but they tell a story of want and suffering while waiting for the rescuing vessel to come.

Native of Janesville, Grover Horn is the son of Charles Horn of this city. He was born and grew up in Janesville, attending the local schools. For a few years he worked as a painter for E. J. Kent and as a burner in the Marzluft shoe factory. About four years ago he left for New York City with the idea of entering the United States Navy. He was rejected because of an imperfect forearm, the fractured bones having been improperly set when he was a child. He did not desert his plans of taking to the sea and shipped out of the Metropolis as a sailor before the mast on a small freighter to South America. Since then he has made numerous trips to those regions and on one occasion rounded the cape and crossed the Pacific to Hopedale.

The Salt Sea "Smell" In his letter he introduces a little of the salt sea vernacular, saying in part: "We were only eight weeks from New York when the old box in which we were sailing opened up so much that it was no longer possible to keep her afloat. It was just south of the line about ten or fifteen degrees that we left her, taking to open boat. We drifted in the tropical seas for twenty-three days without seeing a ship, but finally we were picked up by a British tramp steamer. While waiting for our rescuers, we lost the first mate and the entire crew became sick from exposure and scarcity of good food and water. Two of the men died soon after we were picked up, but I guess my time hasn't come. The Britisher was bound for the north and took us up to St. Johns, New Brunswick, Canada. They put me, with some of the rest, in a hospital and I had three weeks of easy life. I was just allowed to go Saturday, the fourteenth. I will stay here for a time, but it is getting pretty cold in this part of the country now."

REWARD IS GIVEN FOR BRAVE ACT

CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE & ST. PAUL ROAD REWARDS HATTIE LENTZ.

MAKES HER A PRESENT

Sends Her a Letter and Twenty-Five Dollars for Her Brave Act of October 4th.

On October 4th Hattie Lentz, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lentz who live on the Richards farm four miles west of Janesville, saved a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul freight train from a wreck. Yesterday Miss Lentz received a check for twenty-five dollars from the officials of the road and a letter of thanks for her brave work in saving life and property.

Brave Act While Miss Lentz was perhaps in no personal danger herself, her brave act saved the company thousands of dollars and also saved the lives of the train crew. It was a clear-headed action that deserved the reward that the company saw fit to bestow. Miss Lentz was on her way home when she discovered the burning structure and bravely waited to warn the engineer, of any train that might come, of the danger. Engineer Thomas Fox, Fireman Tassell, Conductor Prideaux, Head-Brakeman Ben Millman and Brakeman Sid Northrup were the crew that she warned and they probably owe their lives to her action.

The Scene of Accident Bridge No. 28 which spans a deep gulch about a mile and a half west of the city had caught fire and been partially destroyed when Miss Lentz discovered it. No one was with her or within call. Realizing the danger she hastened to station herself where she might hope to stop any train in time to avert the terrible catastrophe which impended, should it reach the bridge. She had not been on guard long before the sound of one coming from the east reached her and she hastened down the track. The trainmen said that she gave the signals with her hands, showing a perfect familiarity with the code. Engineer Fox hastened to head the warning train conveyed, bringing the train to a stop in short order. Afterwards the men hastened to communicate with Janesville headquarters and the girl resumed her journey to her home as if nothing out of the ordinary had happened.

LOCALS TO PLAY FRESHMAN TEAM

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS GO TO MADISON TOMORROW.

GAME IS A CURTAIN RAISER

Preliminary Contest to Big University Game—Janesville Does Not Expect Victory.

Tomorrow's big gridiron contest at Camp Randall, the Chicago-Wisconsin University game, will have as a curtain raiser a duel between the badger freshman and an eleven representing the Janesville high school. This preliminary is at ten o'clock in the morning and is scheduled to be fought on the same ground where in the afternoon the two big elevens will battle before 8,000 people for the first victory in the great western championship series. The game was arranged over the phone last evening by manager of the Wisconsin freshman and E. J. Haumerson. The late hour of making the arrangements is the result of Eau Claire's failure, they having agreed on this game early in this season. The local boys do not expect to win, in fact they await something far different from victory. The management did not promise the freshman a strong opposition, simply a game if they wished one.

Post Graduates To Play. The line up will be materially changed for the better. For this game no qualifications are necessary and two post-graduates, John Galbraith and George Caldwell, will assist in the backfield, the former at quarterback and the latter at fullback. Wright, who has been running the team on the field, will take a half-back position and Mahoney, halfback, will go forward to the line as a guard. Another strong addition will be made to the ball-carrying force. This is Sennett at halfback. He is a veteran of last year, but for various reasons could not enter practice early in the season and thus far has not been in the game. The following will be the line-up: center, Howland; left guard, Woodworth; right guard, Mahoney; left tackle, Tiernan; right tackle, Casady; right end, Langdon; left end, Charles Connors; quarterback, Galbraith; fullback, Caldwell; left halfback, Sennett; right halfback, Wright. Tickets for Big Game

This game will be of no help to the locals in their standing among the high schools of the state, but they have no hopes of winning the championship and no harm will be done. It gives them a game for this week that otherwise would have been void of all but practice and to each player is given, as a reward for "coming to the rescue," a ticket to the big game in the afternoon and all expenses during the day.

What Correspondents Say

The following dispatch has been sent out from Madison in regard to the game: "The Eau Claire high school team, which claimed to hold the state interscholastic championship for the last several years, was scheduled for this game, but at the last moment almost, they sent word that they could not get there. Janesville was asked to fill the hard place, and Graduate Manager Downer announces that the Bower City boys were 'right there with the goods.' Janesville can hardly expect to win from the freshmen, for the latter have been playing against the varsity first team most of the past month, owing to the lack of second eleven material available for Coaches Kinn and Holt, but the act of the Janesville players in supplying the place of reluctant Eau Claire is looked upon here as creditable and much praise is heard for Mr. Buell's boys."

High School Games

The Milton Junction high school team, which the locals defeated on their home grounds last week, passed through Janesville this morning en route to Brodhead, where they are this afternoon battling with the high school eleven of that place.

Evansville, October 20.—The Monroe high school and the Evansville high school will play football at the Driving park in this city Saturday morning. The game will be called at 9:30 in order that the players will be given ample time to finish the game and attend the great game in Madison in the afternoon.

BRIEF NEWS FROM OLD ROCK.

GRAND ARMY CAMP FIRE. AT MILTON WAS A STEM-WINDER; FINE ADDRESSES

Past Commander Phil. Cheek of Baraboo and Two Janesville Comrades Spoke.

Milton, Oct. 20.—The Campfire of Hamilton Post, Wednesday evening, drew a capacity house and was one of the best in the history of the organization. After the multitude had been fed the following was the program: After music by the Drum Corps, "Marching Through Georgia" was sung. Prayer, Rev. Hattiested, music, male quartette, Messrs. Gustav Seeger, W. S. Wells, B. J. Johnson and A. E. Whitford. The Past Department Commander Cheek of Baraboo, the Englishman with an Irish face and tongue, gave one of his inimitable addresses which was followed by music by the quartet. Comrades Carl and Scott of Janesville, and Rabyor of Milton Junction, then spoke, and after singing "America," led by the quartette, Rev. Dr. Platts dismissed the audience with a benediction.

Odd Fellows Celebrated. Du Lac Lodge, No. 322, I. O. O. F., gave a reception and banquet to members and their friends at the lodge hall, Monday night. About one hundred persons were present. During the evening, the principles of Odd Fellowship were presented by W. P. Clarke; bass solos were sung by Messrs. A. E. Whitford and W. T. Randall; several selections were rendered by a male quartette composed of Messrs. C. A. Nelson, W. S. Wells, W. G. Polan and E. J. Johnson; and instrumental music was furnished by Orcaut's orchestra. C. E. Perry, N. C., was in charge of the reception while R. H. Saunders, V. G., arranged the banquet.

CHAPTER IV.

THE arrival of Chugg's stage with the mail should have been coincident with the departure of the stage that brought the travelers from "Town," but Chugg was late, a tardiness ascribed to indulgence in local lethe waters, for Lemuel Chugg had survived a romance and drank to forget that woman is a variable and a changeable thing. In consequence of which the sober stage driver departed without the mails, leaving Mary Carmichael and the fat lady to scan the horizon for the delinquent Chugg and incidentally to hear a chapter of prairie romance.

Some sort of revolution seemed to be in progress in the room in which the travelers had breakfasted. Mrs. Dax had assumed the office of dictator, with absolute sway. Leander, as aide-de-camp, courier and staff, executed marvellous feats of domestic engineering. The late breakfast table, swept and garnished with pigeonholes, became a United States postoffice prepared to transact postal business and, for the time being, to become the social center of the surrounding country.

Down the yellow road that climbed and dipped and climbed and dipped again over foothills and sprawling space till it was lost in a world without end, Mary Carmichael, standing in the doorway, watched an atom, so small that it might have been a leaf blowing along in the wind, turn into a horseman.

In all that great wide world the only hint of life was the galloping horseman, the only sound the rhythmic ring of the nearing hoofs. The rider, now close enough for Miss Carmichael to distinguish the features, was a thorough dandy of the saddle. No slouching garb of exigence and comfort this, but a pretty display of doekskin gaiter, varnished boot and smart riding breeches. The lad—he could not have been, Miss Carmichael thought, more than twenty—was tanned a splendid color not unlike the bloomy shading on a nasturtium. And when the doughty horseman made out the girl standing in the doorway he smiled with a lick of formality not suggested by the town cut of his trappings. Throwing the reins over the neck of the horse with the real western fling, he slid from the saddle in a trice, and—Mary Carmichael experienced something of the gasping horror of a shocked old lady as she made out two splendid braids of thick, black hair. Her doughty cavalier was no cavalier at all, but a surprisingly handsome young woman.

Miss Carmichael gasped a little even as she extended her hand, for the musketeer had pulled off her gauntlet and held out hers as if she was conferring the freedom of the wilderness. It was impossible for a homesick girl not to respond to such heartiness, though it was with difficulty at first that Mary kept her eyes on the girl's face. Curiosity, agreeably plucked, urged her to take another glimpse of the riding clothes that this young woman wore with such supreme unconcern.

"Are you surprised that I did not wait for an introduction?" the girl—in the riding clothes asked. "But you don't know how good it is to see a girl. I'm so tired of spurs and sombreroes and cattle and dust and distance, and there's nothing else here."

"Where I come from it's just the other way—too many petticoats and batmans."

The horseman, who was no horseman, dropped Miss Carmichael's hand and went into the house. Mary wondered if she ought to have been more cordial.

From the back door came Leander, with disheveled hair, which he began to hang on the line in a dumb, driven sort of way.

"Who is she?" asked Mary.

"Her?" he interrogated, jerking his head in the direction of the house. "The postmistress, Judith Roday. Yes, that's her name." He dropped his voice in the manner of one imparting momentous things. "She never wears a skirt ridin', any more than a man."

"She keeps the postoffice here, since Mrs. Dax lost the job, and boards with us. Praps it's because she is my wife's successor in office, or praps account of her."

And yet what a woman she was! It struck Miss Carmichael as she watched Judith hold these warring elements in the hollow of her hand that her interest might be due to a certain temperamental fusion; that there might lie at the essence of her being a subtle combination of saint and devil. One could fancy her leading an army on a crusade or provoking a barroom brawl. The challenging quality of her beauty, the vividness of color, the suggestion of endurance and radiating health in every line were comparable to the great primeval forces about her.

At present, neither pole of her character, as it had been hastily estimated, was even remotely suggested. The atmosphere in the postoffice was, considering the potential violence of its visitors, singularly calm. And Judith, feeding these wild-border lads on scraps of chaff and banter and retaining their absolute loyalty, was a sight worth seeing. She had the alertness of a lion-tamer locked in a cage with the lords of the jungle; the rashly confident she humbled; the meek she exalted; and all with such genuine good fellowship, such an absence of coquetry in the genial game of give and take, that one ceased to wonder at even the devotion of Leander. And since they were to her, on her own confession, but "spurs and sombreroes" one wondered at the elaboration of the comedy, the endless wire pulling in the manipulation of these most picturesque marionettes—until one remembered the outlaw brother and felt that what she did she did for him.

Clothcraft. Clothes have a great deal to do with the decline of the custom-tailoring business.

A man who likes to be well-dressed is usually willing to spend some money on his clothes, but when he can duplicate the work of his tailor by getting a Clothcraft suit or overcoat, and save ten dollars at the same time, it is a plain business proposition for him to buy Clothcraft Clothes. Clothcraft designers dissect the finished product of the leading English and American tailors, in order to exactly reproduce the best of their work in Clothcraft Clothes.

To this foundation they add many original ideas which are exclusively "Clothcraft." The Newport, shown here is a typical Clothcraft production—coat single breasted, wide lapels, slightly curved front, concave shoulders, close-fitting collar; trousers full peg-topped—this suit is made in a great variety of all-wool fabrics, and is priced from $10 to $25.
